Judge: David Guempel (Gaylord)

What an honor and thrill it was to be invited to judge the Cascade Specialty show again. Lots of fond memories are attached to this event from years gone by. The show site was serene, and the weather was great (for me). The hospitality was fabulous! Thank you for the nice judge's hospitality bag of regional delights. Truly enjoyed the wonderful judge's dinner with Ann, Cheryl, Stephanie, and my fellow judges, A Tasty Treat!!

Special Thanks to Rob and Michelle Wilson for hosting me in their home and motorhome. Thank you, Michelle, for being my steward extraordinaire and keeping me moving along. I'm in love with my corgi windchime judge's gift. Too pretty to be hung outside, so it will be displayed in a special place inside the house.

Thanks to all the exhibitors who showed their lovely corgis to me and accepted my placements with good sportsmanship. The entry was deep in quality. The exhibits presented in good condition and were well groomed. It was nice to find out that my Winners Bitch finished with multiple specialty wins and it was my Winners Dog's first time being shown.

Regular Classes & Best Of Breed

Puppy Dog 6 TO 9 Months (5 entered, 1 absent)

1. ROCK STREET ALL SHOOK UP A handsome young dog of good type and balance; the youngest in the class. Attractive head with a dark, correct shaped eye and ear set. Nice long neck, good prosternum, well angled and set on shoulders with a good driving rear. A solid, sound, topline with adequate ribbing. His correct structure and effortless side gait made the puppy the best mover of the class and Reserve Winners Dog.

2. ROCKSHIRE THOMAS OSBORNE An attractive dark red dog with a balanced profile. Handsome head and dark eye. Nice shoulder placement and angles, adequate ribbing and correct rear. Despite his youthful looseness and lack of cooperation with his handler, he moved well with a correct balanced side gait.

3. STILLWATER RIVER HAWK A lighter red dog with an attractive head and dark eyes. He had good shoulder angles and a good prosternum. Better shoulder set back would have given a longer neck. This puppy had good ribbing, the best in the class and a nice driving rear. Used himself nicely on the move. Needs time to come together.

Regular Classes & Best of Breed
Judge: Stephanie Hedgepath (Jimanie)

I would like to thank the Cascade club for inviting me to judge their specialty. I was very much looking forward to the assignment, as I was sure I would see many very good Corgis from which to choose. I was not disappointed. Overall, I was pleased with the depth of quality in the entry. I saw much Improvement in structure throughout, especially when compared to what I see at all-breed shows, especially the better angulation of the forequarters. I think you will take note of this in my critiques below, as most of them sound like I am repeating the same descriptions over and over again, which speaks to the depth quality of the dogs being shown. We must be careful in preserving the correct size in our breed as I have been noticing more often that some of the dogs being shown are much larger than called for in the Standard. We must also try to move away from the neeve round feet that seem to be more common in our breed than the proper oval feet. I also found a few dogs shown to me had chests so narrow that I could not get my hand beyond the prosternum and underneath the dog. This was a shock as I have never found this in my 36 years of judging the breed.

I think he has a wonderful future ahead.

In profile, he had good proportions of height to body length. Fairly clean coming and going but took more steps than those above to cover the same amount of ground.

3. ROCKY L JACK AND THE BEANSTALK (CH Jeager Affair Of The Heart x Nireno La Tache) Breeder and Owner Lisa Halop-freer. Sable and white male with good proportions of height to body length. Handsome head and expression. Fairly easy side gait, but close coming and going due to a narrower ribcage with less rib spring than ideal.

Good head and expression, but to be ideal, needs a bit more rounding in the muzzle. Lovely outline and correct proportions of height to body length. Moved fairly well all ways but was a little soft in back on the side gait.
